Amy Duckworth: Ms. Duckworth is the owner of Tin Top Skating Rink. She asked the Court to please consider not passing an Ordinance pertaining to noise for she felt it would be detrimental to her business as well as other businesses in Grant County. Ms. Duckworth explained all of the improvements that they have done since acquiring the skating rink, and doesn't feel that they can do enough to satisfy the persons wanting a noise ordinance. She explained that the rink has been in operation since 1988, and the neighbor's house has been there since 1992. Ms. Kimberly Phillips who is the previous owner of Tin Top stated that they never felt that they could do enough to please the complaining neighbor. Justice Grant Westmoreland stated that he had researched two (2) or three (3) ordinances to use as a guide if we decide to do anything. He also stated that the noise was loud, but didn't know if it was too loud. He feels that Mr. Earls has a legitimate concern. He did not know if an ordinance was the way to go, and asked the parties to "hit the reset button" and try anew to attempt to work something out between themselves.

Other Business: Judge Randy Pruitt informed that RMS had agreed to sell the county ten (10) acres of land adjoining Cox Creek Lake
